Preventive services

Your health plan covers preventive services at no charge to you. These include routine healthcare screenings and check-ups.

Many types of screenings and tests can catch a disease before it starts. Starting treatment or lifestyle changes before a disease starts or while it is still in its early stages will help you stay healthier or recover more quickly.

Preventive care helps lower the long-term cost of managing disease because it helps catch problems in the early stages when most diseases are more readily treatable.

Many preventive services are now covered in full by insurance due to the Affordable Care Act (ACA), which means they are free for you if you have health insurance.

Please see the link below for a full list of preventive services:
